Opis nemovitosti

Great renovation project

We have this traditional old stone cottage in need of complete renovation in an inland village.

It is situated in one of the villages 10 minutes drive from the coast, and 3 kilometres from the main island town of Hvar, and it also benefits from elevated views across the other few houses and open countryside.

The walls appear sound, and there is water and electric nearby, so, apart from the great location, there is some 'upside'!

It consists of ground and first floor, with a total floor area of 80 m2.

On the ground floor there is a cellar.

The building is oriented northeast.

There is parking in the village, close to the house.

Electricity and water are close to the house.

For further information, contact our office, and we can arrange to view the property and give our advice on renovation costs etc.
