PRICE REDUCED FROM 160.000 EURO!!

Croatia Property Sales are pleased to offer this rare refurbishment project of a traditional stone house in an island village.

It is situated on Vis island, only a few minute's walk from the sea, harbour and the main part of the old town.

The house is on 3 floors, each with a similar footprint and a total area of 141m sq.

In addition to the house, the top floor of the house below (32m sq) is also part of the purchase.

There are many options for a layout of the property, either as independent apartments, one house, or business premises with living accommodation above. There are 2 entrances, one of which has not been used recently and which could be restored.

The top floor has partial sea views.

The exterior condition of the house appears sound but the interior requires a complete renovation. Electricity and water etc are present.

This part of the old town does not have parking and the nearest parking is 150m from the house, but deliveries can be made.

There are daily ferry trips to Split which operates throughout the whole year and the island is especially famed for its close knit and welcoming community.
