PRICE REDUCED FROM 130.000 EURO!

We are offering this charming old stone house, completely renovated, with great sea views.

It is situated on the south coast on the island of Hvar, 300m from the sea, in a typical Dalmatian village.

This fishing village is a few kilometres from Jelsa, rich in the scents from lavender and olive trees and with a shore of crystal clear water and sandy beaches which make it a very attractive destination for many tourists.

This house is completely renovated and equipped.

It has a total surface of 100 m<sup>2</sup> and consists of two floors.

The ground floor has a kitchen, dining room, bathroom, bedroom and covered terrace.

A wooden staircase connects the ground floor to the first floor where there are two bedrooms, a bathroom, and a room that can serve as a living room with a balcony with stunning sea views.

The owner also has a wooden storage room which is located next to the house.

The house has all the necessary infrastructure and access to a vehicle.

The private parking place is covered with vines, which provides shade in summer.

Town centre where there are shops, a bakery and restaurants is a few minutes' walk.

Ferry port Stari Grad is 20 km away.
