Opis nemovitosti

Beautiful old stone house in idyllic Dalmatian place.

The house has 78 m2, has three floors, and there is a small garden that is behind the house.

On the ground floor there is a big space, that can be used for various purposes. An outdoor stone staircase leads to the first floor where there are two rooms, and there are internal stairs that lead to top floor where there is a kitchen and another room.

The land opposite the house also is being sold, and there are two more stone houses and a garden on this plot. The total area is 211 m2.

A home modernization project was developed, and is being sold together with house and land.

One of the stone houses on the opposite land can be upgraded for two more floors, and the garden has enough space for a pool or summer kitchen, and another stone house can be used as another apartment.

The property has car access and there is possibility for public parking.
