Immobilienbeschreibung

Stone house in the old town center of Sibenik.

The property stretches over four floors and has an indoor staircase. The ground floor contains an entrance area, a bathroom, and a large room currently being used as storage room/cellar due to its high walls. The first floor consists of a hallway and a bedroom. The second floor contains a living room and a bedroom, whereas the last floor consists of a kitchen and one more bedroom.

Due to the number of floors and the surface area of 25m² per each floor, the property can be repurposed according to the wishes and needs of its future owners.

The town fortresses, the center as well as numerous stores are all located nearby.

The property requires complete renovation.
